Skills for Learning
Exam Planner

In the run up to exams, it is important to give yourself enough time to study and revise. A revision timetable can help you to manage your revision and other commitments too.

Tips:

1. Firstly, fill in the dates and times of your exams and then block out any non-study related activities such as work, socialising and lectures.

2. Figure out how much time you have to revise for each exam and then block out the time you're going to revise for each subject in your planner.

3. Consider writing down what you need to revise for each subject and give yourself a clear idea of what you're going to revise for each revision session.

4. Plan your revision sessions around the times you work best for example, you may feel more alert in the mornings or evenings.

Time	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday	Saturday	Sunday
8:00
9:00
10:00
11:00
12:00
13:00
14:00
15:00
16:00
17:00
18:00
19:00
20:00

Cite this work:

Skills for Learning (2024) Exam Planner. Available at: http://www.wlv.ac.uk/skills (Accessed: give date accessed)

To request this document in an alternative format please contact skills@wlv.libanswers.com