

Image 7 - 'Emergence'

The three figures in this photograph depicts my experience as an early researcher.

Over the course of the first two years of the Doctoral programme more clearly defined ideas have emerged (figure in the foreground) replacing vague opinions (figures in the background).

This work of clarification of thinking continues as I deepen my theoretical understanding of research processes and define a research question.

Sarah Bruce, Faculty of Education, Health & Wellbeing

